

Information Centre

Irolis Removals Information Centre was design especially for our removals clients. Through our long experience with moving in UK and London removals we realised what enormous amount of asks our clients have to remember. There is also a lot of information about removals you don't know and it is not easy to find out about. We created some informative documents that shows exactly what must be done, and when, before moving. All these documents are printable and very simple to understand.

Removal Count Down – this document will be very useful from one month prior to moving house. It states what exactly you must do on each day, reminds you of important transfer.

Furniture Removal Checklist – if you decide to pack your belonging on your own, it is advisable that you read this document. There are many little details regarding each of your furniture you might not be aware of. It explain the proper way every item should be packed, wrapped, secured to make sure it will travel safely to the destination address.

Useful Links – this document is just a list of links that are likely to be used before moving. There are many important institutions you must contact prior to your move, as well as others that are less common.

FAQ – a list of common question. You might like to read it, as you may come up with something you didn't realise is important or just didn't think of it yet.

7 Steps For Hassle Free Removal – read this short document to avoid disappointments when moving. This is what we have learnt from our long moving experienced and summarised in short, so that you are not going to make the same mistakes as others did.

London PostCodes – We offer moving and transport services for the whole UK and London. As a London based removal specialist we operate in the following areas:
